EUROPE'S ENVOYS APPEAL TO DUCE IN PEACE EFFORT

Selassie Reported Unwilling To Revive Italo-Ethiopian Commission. He Duce Sees Nothing Less Than Protectorate.

3 BRITISH SOMALIS KILLED IN BATTLE

F. D. R. Enunciates "Hands-Off" Policy in Declaring U. S. To Keep Out of Foreign Troubles.

LONDON, July 26.—(AP)—Europe's diplomats tonight pushed eleventh-hour efforts to get Premier Benito Mussolini to accept wide economic concessions, instead of military victory in Ethiopia, but indications were that Duce would accept nothing less than a protectorate.

That, Emperor Haile Selassie, of Ethiopia, has said repeatedly, is unthinkable.

Great Britain wanted an official statement of Italy's claims and charges against the African nation, but it learned unofficially that Duce would insist upon the protectorate.

The extraordinary session of the League of Nations council to consider plans for peace has been called for July 31 or August 1.

Supporting the view that war—despite all Britain's and the League's efforts for peace—was imminent were these developments today:

1. Ethiopia was authoritatively reported unwilling to revive the Italo-Ethiopian commission, which broke up at Scheveningen, The Netherlands, over frontier questions. Italy proposed its revival in telegrams to Addis Ababa, Geneva and other capitals yesterday.

2. The Stefani (Italian) News Agency reported from Djibouti, French Somaliland, another "bloody encounter" between Ethiopians and native troops in British Somaliland.

Three British Somalis were killed, Stefani said, and grave repercussions were feared.

3. Rome, still echoing to last night's huge pro-Mussolini demonstration in which 100,000 fascists shouted against Ethiopia and Japan, was reported still opposed to League action in the African crisis.

4. The British government made ready to send 100 soldiers to guard its legation at Addis Ababa. Only emperor Haile Selassie's official permission for them to cross Ethiopian territory was awaited.

5. Italian and Ethiopian consuls at Helsinki, Finland, reported 1,400 Finns had volunteered for African service, 1,000 for Italy and 400 for Ethiopia. No applications had been accepted, however.

Only some new, positive step by Italy was awaited.

Little Warns South To Seek New Crops

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C., July 26.—(AP)—Colonel Arthur W. Little, West Virginia publisher, said today the annual convention of Coastal States, Inc., a "booster" organization, here today the time had come for the south to launch new money crops.

"Cotton should be displaced as far as necessary to maintain economic independence," he said, and pointed to the manufacture of newsprint from southern slash pine as a potential large industry in the south.

Germans Fear New 'Blood Purge' As Nazis War on 'Reactionaries'

Welter of Rumors and Dire Predictions Expressed in Sotto Voce Accompany Progress of Offensive Against Jews and Catholics.

BERLIN, July 26.—(AP)—Uncertainty and tenseness growing out of the Nazis' bid drive against "reactionaries" brought whispered conjecture today that another "blood purge" might result.

Jews and some diplomatic quarters compared the tactics employed against Jews, steel helmet war veterans and "political Catholics" to those which preceded the June, 1934, blood letting, in which Adolf Hitler and his helpers eliminated unwanted party members.

A welter of rumors, dire predictions and fears expressed sotto voce, like those of June, 1934, accompanied progress of the offensive against "reactionaries."

The steel helmets were today's worst sufferers. Governor Erich Koch, of East Prussia, between Poland and Russia, dissolved their organization, adding the East Prussian units to those already under the Nazi banner in Silesia, Mecklenburg, Anhalt, Baden and Thuringia.

Catholics, too, were affected. Chief Heinrich Himmler, of the secret police, ordering confessional youth groups to

COURT AID HEARD IN COUNTY PROBE

O. H. Puckett Summoned as Fulton Quiz Centers About Tax Assessments.

Only one witness, O. H. Puckett, clerk of the municipal court, was questioned yesterday by the special investigating committee of the grand jury as the probe into county affairs continued with new emphasis being placed on tax assessments.

Property owners whose tax assessments have been raised and who wish to make complaints will be heard by the subcommittee as it delves into the administration of county business. R. L. Barge, secretary of the July-August grand jury and chairman of the special committee, said yesterday.

The plan of the investigation, which grew out of charges of waste and extravagance laid to the majority faction of the county commission by Commissioner George F. Longino Jr., will not be changed by the illness of Commissioner Edwin F. Johnson, leader of the majority bloc, Barge asserted.

Puckett was before the committee yesterday for approximately half an hour, following the regular session of the grand jury. The committee considered the county's financial condition and Johnson's charges in general, it was reported.

More witnesses and department heads will be summoned to appear at the next meeting of the probe group of nine Tuesday afternoon, Barge said.

It was expected that Commissioners Ed L. Almond, member of the majority faction, and Commissioner J. A. Rogdale, who sides with Longino, will be called before the committee some time next week. Longino and Dr. Charles R. Adams, commission chairman, have both appeared by request, and Johnson went before the body once to defend himself of the charge made by Longino that Charles Collins, farm program coordinator, was hired by the majority faction under an assumed name.

Johnson, who passed an uncomfortable day yesterday at St. Joseph's infirmary, where he underwent an emergency operation Thursday, will be confined to his bed for at least three weeks, his doctor said.

Commissioner Longino brought on the investigation of county affairs by his charges that waste and extravagance are causing tax assessments to rise.

U. S. Reserve Balances Are Highest in History

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—An increase of $260,000,000 in gold stocks in June brought member bank reserve balances and excess reserves to the highest levels in the history of the federal reserve system.

The federal reserve board, in its monthly bulletin, reported a $150,000,000 increase in reserve balances, which totaled $5,000,000,000 June 29, and said the rise "was entirely due to further large imports of gold" mostly from France. Excess reserves reached $2,400,000,000 on the same date.

"On February 1, 1934," the board explained, "immediately after revaluation of the dollar, excess reserves of member banks were about $800,000,000 and were largely the consequence of purchases of United States government securities by the reserve banks in 1932 and 1933."

"Since that date the increase in the monetary gold stocks of the country from about $7,000,000,000 to $9,000,000,000 on June 19, 1935, has been the principal factor in the growth of $2,260,000,000 in member bank reserve balances. In the same period required reserves increased by $890,000,000, the remaining $1,600,000,000 being added to excess reserves."

SWEEPING PROBE OF GRAFT PLEDGED BY POLICE BOARD

Committee Promises To Ferret Out Members Who "Swap Protection for Favors" From Trade.

Atlanta's five-man police committee last night pledged a united front in ferreting out petty grafting from merchants and speakies at an impromptu meeting held at the police station, as investigators prepared to close in on additional members of the police department, who are alleged to have been guilty of "swapping protection for favors."

Four of the five members attended the meeting at the station, and the fifth member, asserted he will vote to "fire every one connected with the department where evidence shows any unethical practices have existed."

At the same time, Councilman G. Dan Bridges, chairman, issued an appeal to merchants to aid the committee in assembling evidence of wrongdoing by members of the department, and promised immunity from reprisals, which might be aimed at operators of businesses as a result of any information which might be furnished the department.

Two Embers Suspended.
Two embers—Patrolman R. C. Tuggle and E. F. Wise, a supernumerary—were under suspension yesterday as a result of a series of affidavits furnished to Oscar H. Pendley, secretary of the department, and it was predicted that at least half a dozen more will be drawn into the probe before it is completed.

It also was authoritatively learned that the investigations of the conduct of officers has spread to Captain Jack Malcolm, head of the traffic bureau, and that a probe is in progress of an instance of where a city car was damaged as a result of having been taken outside the city limits when assigned to the traffic chief.

Other departments also are under scrutiny and a fine tooth comb is being run throughout the entire department to find out who those who do not appreciate their jobs enough to conduct themselves as officers, but who are engaged in enterprises which reflect on the good name of the police.

U. S. WILL DEPORT ALIEN PRISONERS

First Group of 151 Ordered Returned to Home Countries by Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—With economy given as a motive, the government today decided to rid its federal prisons of all alien convicts.

The first group of 151, including one woman, will be put on ships and sent back to homelands in Europe, the Orient and South America. Others will make the outward-bound journey as rapidly as they become eligible for deportation.

For some the deportation is a bargain. The terms they are serving range down from life sentences to a year and a day. Their crimes run the scale from murder to auto theft, with narcotic peddling composing the largest portion.

She is Anna Sage, who some have said gave the word that led John Dillinger out of a Chicago movie house and into the fatal spatter of pistol bullets.

Also to be deported, although she is not of the same group, is "the woman in red" of the Dillinger case. The alleged operator of a Chicago disorderly house, she has been given one month to settle affairs in this country before being shipped back to her Rumanian homeland.

Girl Racer Is Among Favorites In Soap-Box Derby Finals Today

Lily Pearl Haynes, of East Point, 14 years of age and the only girl among more than 450 entrants in the 1935 Constitution-Chevrolet Soap Box Derby, today will be a favorite among the 70 survivors who enter the finals.

This became evident Friday when the semi-final heats were run. Lily Pearl won her heat by a wide margin and today will be a favorite among the 70 survivors who enter the finals.

The finals will be run, beginning promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon, on North Side drive, with the starting line at Wesley avenue. Arrangements have been made to take care of an anticipated throng of 20,000 spectators, with 75 special police officers to keep the track clear and to control traffic.

The winners in the three classes, A, B and C, will start the final race, the one which will decide who is to represent Atlanta in the National Soap

POWER CONFEREES ANGRIFF ADJOURN WITHOUT ACTING

Demand That Administration Expert Attend Sessions Splits Group. Patton Friend Grilled.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—In grim disagreement, tinged with temper, the senate-house conferees assigned to reconcile differences in the controversial utility bill today broke wide apart and adjourned indefinitely.

The senate lobby committee reluctantly pumped Representative Patton, democrat, Texas, on his relationship with a high Texas power official. Sharp questioning resulted from evidence that from a four-month salary of $3,100 he had been able to invest $5,000 in government bonds.

Buy Bonds.
From a close friend of Patton the investigators received testimony, instantly and indignantly denied, that the congressman carried a "little box" out of the hotel room of John W. Carpenter, president of Texas Power & Light, just before the utilities bill vote, and a few days later has "bought a bond."

The utility bill conferees, appointed by the house and senate to adjust disagreement between the two chambers on the form of the legislation, split again on permitting Ben Cohen, administration aid, to attend their meetings.

"Executive Interference."
Chairman Wheeler, democrat, Montana, of the senate group, wanted him, backed by a majority of the senate conferees, and by Chairman Rayburn, democrat, Texas, of the house group, as well. But Representative Cooper, republican, Ohio; Huddleston, democrat, Alabama; and Holmes, republican, Massachusetts, objected so vehemently agreement was impossible.

There appears to be a permanent breach," Huddleston told reporters. "This is a fundamental question as to whether the President or congress shall legislate. Cohen's presence constitutes executive interference. I don't know when, if ever, the conferees will meet again."

Capitol Hill pricked up its ears when it heard, too, Wheeler had threatened to go into Governor's district and campaign against him next year.

FARM WOMEN AID MATES IN HARVEST

Labor Shortage Forces Wives To Discard Pans, Pots for Wheat Binders.

DES MOINES, July 26.—(AP)—Iowa farm women have taken to the fields to help their husbands through the harvest jam—just as their great-grandmothers did in the pioneer days.

Wearing their menfolk's overalls, many sturdy farmers' wives and daughters have discarded their pots and pans for the tractors and binders when farm hands could not be hired.

One Des Moines farmer said he knew of a woman who has been working in the fields all season.

A farmer's daughter near White Oak has been operating a binder while her father shook grain.

Women at Clarion have been running binders and shocking oats. One woman was injured when she was caught in a binder. Reports from Clarion said some women prefer the outdoor work to the heat of their kitchens.

The labor shortage is still acute, but the small grain harvest is being completed in most counties. Farmers complain that relief workers refuse to accept temporary harvest jobs at wages from $1 to $3 a day.

Relief officials in more than 20 counties have cut off relief from able-bodied men in order to make harvest jobs more attractive.

Governor's Son Unhurt In Albany Auto Crash

Herman Talmadge, son of Governor Talmadge, and a companion, Ernest Frank, of Atlanta, were involved in an automobile accident at Albany when they sought to avoid striking a car which came out of a side street.

Chief of Police C. Ray said at Albany last night.

Although missing the other machine, the car in which Talmadge and Frank were riding hit an electric light pole and knocked it down, Chief Ray said. Talmadge was not injured, while Frank suffered a small cut over the eye. Their automobile was badly damaged.

The two youths went to the home of friends at Albany shortly after the accident. Chief Ray said he understood they were forced to run into the pole to keep from hitting the other car.

DeSoto and Sherman Made Route Across Oconee at Ball's Ferry

Phlegmatic Operator of Ancient Punt Today Waits With Resignation for Time When Bridge Will Take Away His Livelihood.

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of stories revealing the physical background for the controversy over Ball's Ferry bridge between the United States Bureau of Roads and the Georgia Highway Department and Governor Talmadge. They are written by L. A. Farrell, Constitution staff writer who has been sent to Ball's Ferry, its surrounding territory and the nearby towns to learn the history of the bridge, to talk with the people of that section and get their reaction to the bridge situation. Other stories in the series will appear in The Constitution of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.)

By L. A. FARRELL.
BALL'S FERRY, Ga., July 26.—Four hundred years ago the explorer DeSoto set out from Mobile to make a treaty with the Indians who roamed the eastern section of what is now Georgia, to meet and make friends with the tribe under the leadership of Princess Augusta, for whom the city of Augusta is now named. Seeking the shortest route he came due eastward and crossed the Oconee river here.

Seventy years ago when Sherman completed his capture and burning of Atlanta he set out for Savannah and the sea. Turning to his compass he sought a bee line to Savannah and his course lay directly across the Oconee at Ball's Ferry.

Today the breakthroughs used by fighting Joe Wheeler's gallant cavalry still stand on the eastern banks of the Oconee at this spot, a vivid reminder of the first battle of Ball's Ferry.

Sherman's army cut the first path through this section and John Ball, a Confederate soldier who fought here, came back after the war and established a ferry.

Balls Ferry Today.
Sherman's path became a highway and the ferry became Ball's Ferry and Balls Ferry it is today.

As the south restored its broken lines of transportation after the war Ball's Ferry became an important point and because the ferry was privately operated by John Ball and he charged fees for transporting wagons and pedestrians across the river there came an agitation for a bridge.

Time came and time went, generations came and generations went, but the urge for the bridge flowed in the blood of nearly every man, woman and child in Johnson and Wilkinson counties.

BIG FIGHT LOOMS ON TAX MEASURE

Drafters Agree To Retain Law Making Companies Pay Taxes on Big Gifts.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—A major congressional scrap was forecast today with the disclosure that democratic drafters of the President's tax bill had agreed to retain the law which makes corporations pay taxes on gifts to charities.

President Roosevelt openly opposed any change. Charitable organizations insisted that unless corporations were allowed some sort of deductions for charitable donations, the size of the donations would drop off.

There had been considerable discussion of the question among both sides of the aisle, but the committee demurred to take up the question until after the President's statement, followed by authoritative word today that the bill would not include an exemption feature in their bill.

Scores Urged Change.
Scores of members, however, continuing dozens of letters from individuals and charitable organizations urging the change. Consequently, it was generally forecast that if the bill emerged from the committee "take us back to the horse and buggy" would be made to change it on the floor.

Under present law, a corporation may deduct from its income only the gifts which it can prove were necessary to its business. A recent supreme court decision narrowed the classification of such gifts.

The attitude of the charitable organizations was summed up by Allen T. Burns, of Community Chests and Councils, Inc., who contended that the refusal to allow exemptions would "take us back to the horse and buggy days of private charity."

The ways and means committee demurred to continue their work with administrative features of the bill. They have decided tentatively upon new taxes for inheritances and gifts in addition to those which already exist on estates and gifts; upon graduated corporation taxes ranging from 15 to 34 to 14 to 14 per cent; the dividing line being a $15,000 income; upon excess corporation profits levied of 5 to 20 per cent; and upon increases boosting top individual surtax incomes from 59 to 75 per cent.

One detail reported accepted today applied to life insurance. It was that up to $50,000 life insurance left to a spouse, son, daughter, parent, grandparent, adopted child, and grandchild.

SENATOR ISSUES FIRST STATEMENT IN CONTROVERSY

"Willing To See Money Spent by Counties and Cities If Deadlock Continues," Asserts Russell, Supporting Carl Vinson.

MONEY FOR RELIEF, RAMSPECK CLAIMS
Delay Is Impeding Work Relief Program and President Should Act, Congressman Declares.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—Expenditure of Georgia's federal road millions by counties and cities was proposed today by Senator Russell and Representative Ramspeck as an alternative if Governor Talmadge's highway board and the Federal Roads Bureau fail to settle their differences.

This development followed closely the announcement of Representative Vinson that he will urge adoption of the county plan. Vinson declared "the secretary of agriculture has found the state of Georgia is without a satisfactory highway department."

Breaking his silence on the controversy, which has caused the government to withhold the state's $19,000,000 in federal road allotments, Russell stated:

"If the road matter stays hopelessly deadlocked and the people of Georgia deprived for a long time of the benefits of the large amount of funds to which we are entitled, I would be wholly willing to see the funds expended by the counties and cities on road and street improvements and grade-crossing elimination."

Ramspeck issued a statement as follows:

"Sometime ago I suggested to the President that the road money allocated to Georgia be expended through the county commissioners and the municipalities. I see no reason why, if this controversy is not promptly settled, such a plan should not be followed. This money is intended to furnish work relief. The building of roads is a secondary consideration and I hope that the President will not delay action in this matter."

George Hopeful.
Senator George, meanwhile, said he still was hopeful the highway board can reach an agreement. The senator will confer with Thomas H. MacDonald, federal roads chief, early next week. He has advised Mr. Roosevelt

Governor of Kentucky Undergoes Operation

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 26.—(AP)—An operation on Governor Ruby Laffoon for appendicitis was completed tonight. Hospital attendants said "the Governor" did fine. He is in excellent shape.

The 66-year-old Governor was brought here early today.

The Governor's condition brought five struggling candidates in the democratic primary, a week away, to tense attention. Lieutenant Governor A. B. Chapman, Chandler, a bitter foe of the Laffoon administration, has campaigned furiously against the Governor's choice for his successor, former Highway Chairman Thomas S. Rhea.

The Governor of Kentucky has power to remove practically all state employees.

WHITE DEFENDS MILAM AFTER HAILEY'S ATTACK

Fourth Ward Councilman
Declares Pay Cut Move
Not Political One.

Councilman John A. White, fourth ward member of council's finance committee, yesterday took up the cudgel in defense of Councilman Aubrey Milam, finance committee chairman, following an attack on Milam by Alderman L. Glady Hailey, opponent of a move to divert $27,500 in city finances towards a partial restoration of city employee salary cuts.

Hailey criticized the attempt to classify intangibles as a move to get owners of such properties to return them for taxation, charging "favoritism for the rich man."

"This salary question is a political shell game, which I propose to expose," White said. "Mr. Hailey, proponent of this move, claims that those who are trying to prevent dissipation of city finances and resultant bankruptcy for the city are playing politics."

"The only thing I have to say is that politics are not played that way, and politicians in the sense which Hailey meant to imply do not oppose a move to make a group of 2,700 employees happy."

"In fact, Hailey is on the political end of this issue, and it is apparent he hopes to be on the vote receiving end. He says favoritism has been shown the rich in regard to intangibles."

"I reply that he has been a member of city council for two years, that he is a member of the finance committee, that he has the right of any other member of council to oppose any favoritism."

"We tried every means available to force intangibles on the tax books. Hailey was a member of the finance committee when we contracted for the services of an investigator and paid out good commissions for information, which would result in putting intangibles on the tax books. He also was a member of the finance committee and the classification was made with full knowledge of the finance committee in an effort to boost intangible valuations."

"When the drive to get intangibles on the books was failed, the council appealed to the state and federal government to help get intangibles on city digest. I went before the Georgia mayors' convention at Albany and got them to ask the cooperation of the state and federal governments in the effort to put intangibles on the books. And now we are charged with favoritism. He says the small owner of properties pays. That is true, but if we vote the salary restoration, the little home owner will be called upon to pay that."

U. T. W. CONSIDERS BILL FOR TEXTILE LABORERS

NEW YORK, July 26.—(AP)—Officers of the United Textile Workers of America met today to consider a bill providing labor standards for the textile industry, which they said would be introduced in the house next week by Representative Ellenbogen, Democrat, Pennsylvania.

The bill will provide, the union said, for a minimum week of $15 a week, maximum work week of 35 hours, and collective bargaining and will call for the licensing and labeling of all textile products. Existing government agencies, including the post-office, RFC and TVA and others, will enforce it.

Inventory control and a plan for removing obsolete machinery are also provided. A commission of seven would administer the act.

John A. Peck, vice president representing the south, reported a substantial membership gain in that section.

FLORIDA WOMAN DEALT HAND OF 13 DIAMONDS

TAMPA, Fla., July 26.—(AP)—It was no joke and the cards weren't stacked.

Mrs. Walter H. Newton, playing bridge with three friends last night was dealt a hand of 13 diamonds. She was playing with Mrs. J. Frank Buckles as her partner against Miss Dorothy Hicks and Miss Yvonne Stone, of Fort Myers.

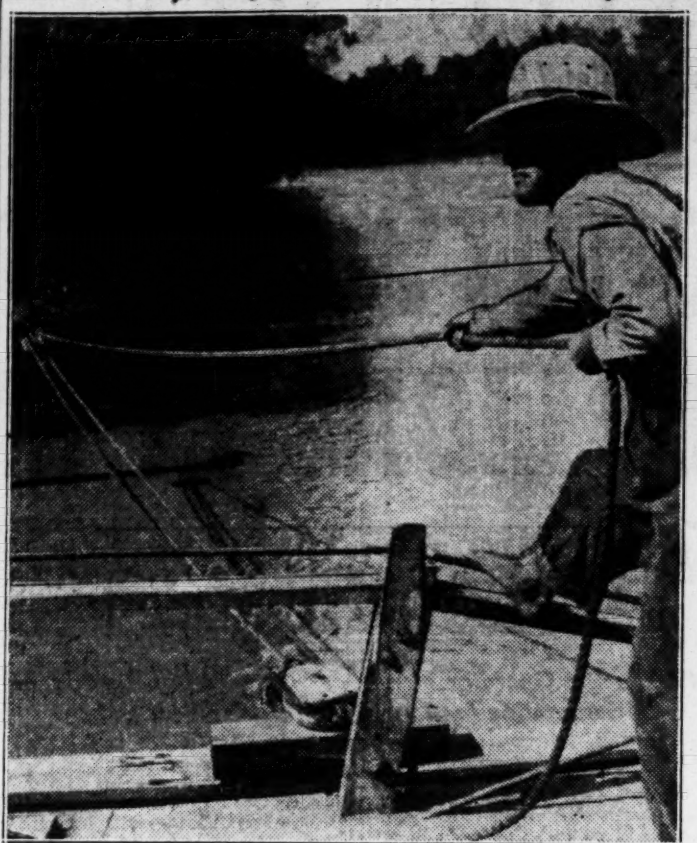

Mrs. Newton said she was so excited that she bid a grand slam immediately without attempting to "build" her score up to a double.

Bridge experts estimate the chance of getting 13 cards of a suit dealt in a hand is once in 635,013,559,000 deals.

Man Facing Trial for Auto Crash Found Dead, With Pistol Nearby

Believed by relatives to have been dependent on police charges of drunken driving and having an accident as the result of a crash Thursday night at Peachtree street and Collier road, in which it drove in head-on into a trolley car, H. S. Reece, 55, a car inspector of the Seaboard Air Line, was found shot to death in a potato house at the rear of his home near Marietta yesterday afternoon.

A pistol with a discharged shell was found near his hand. Reece's brother-in-law, R. H. Cleveland, of 700 Highland avenue, N. E., told officers he believed Reece was despondent over the accident. Cleveland told police that after his brother-in-law had spent the night with him, his wife had driven Reece home and that he had made an attempt to kill himself at that time but that Mrs. Cleveland had taken a gun away from him.

Reece was painfully injured in the automobile accident Thursday night and was treated at Grady hospital. He was then removed to police headquarters and charged with drunken driving and having an accident.

He was released on $200 bond posted by Cleveland and notified to appear for trial at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. When he failed to show up the bond was forfeited.

Reece is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Effie Lamrock, of Flint, Mich., and a son, J. L. Reece, of Greensboro, N. C.

and family. Their rent bill at a residential hotel near the capitol, he said, was $80 a month.

At about this point one of the attending senators broke in to ask if it was not correct that his salary since coming here had been $3,100.

Chairman Black interspersed his questions with references to stops at a downtown restaurant, and Patton agreed he had been in the place on numerous occasions with a Eugene V. Sellers, an NRA employee, and a nephew, Norris Shook, now in Houston, Texas.

Denies Visit. He repeatedly denied he visited Carpenter's hotel room on the Sunday before the vote or he was in the restaurant, O'Donnell's, on that day. His "little wife," he said, could not testify to the same effect.

The committee called Sellers, former livestock dealer, former public utilities employee and more recently the holder of a government job. He placed his hat on the witness table beside Patton's books and cigar box and leaned back for questioning.

On the Sunday morning before the vote, he told the committee he and Shook handled, felt like pasteboard, not wood, was not so large as the cigar box exhibited by Patton, and "when you raise it up something would move." It was light in weight, he added, and could not have contained books. It was wrapped, he said, in a newspaper. Wasn't Cigars.

The next day, he continued, he talked about the circumstance with Shook. "He asked if I thought that it was cigars, and I said 'no.' He left us in the lobby and when he returned he had a little box and said 'John gave me a box of cigars.'"

"How long was he in Carpenter's room?"

"Oh, 30 or 40 minutes."

"What did you do then?"

"We went to O'Donnell's for a glass of beer."

He testified, in response to questioning, the box, which he said both he and Shook handled, felt like pasteboard, not wood, was not so large as the cigar box exhibited by Patton, and "when you raise it up something would move." ## Miss Boswell and Mr. Wilson Wed At Home Ceremony in Decatur

Of interest to friends and relatives in Georgia and Florida is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Anne Reid Boswell to Alan Wright Wilson, of Sanford, Fla., formerly of Augusta. The marriage was solemnized Thursday morning at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. L. Martin, 311 Ponce de Leon place, Decatur. The ceremony was performed by Dr. D. P. McGeachy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Decatur, in the presence of the immediate family.

The lovely bride wore an ensemble of corn flower blue chiffon with navy blue accessories and a bouquet of sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Wilson is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Mamie Simpson Boswell and the late William Benjamin Boswell, of Penfield. Her paternal grandparents are the late John Reid and Mary Alford Boswell. Her maternal grandparents are the late William Henry and Sarah Hancock Simpson. She is connected with the Avery, Cheney, West and McClellan families of Georgia and Virginia.

For the past few years the bride has been teaching in Orlando, Fla. Her sisters are Mrs. W. C. McCombs, of Thomson; Mrs. J. L. Martin, of Decatur; Mrs. R. M. Boswell, of Charleston, S. C.; Mrs. A. D. Holland, of Atlanta, and her brother is W. H. McIlwain, of Birmingham, Ala. Mr. Wilson is the son of W. C. Wilson, of Augusta, and the late Mrs. Nettie Stroud Wilson, formerly of South Carolina. His paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wilson and his maternal grandparents are the late James Stroud, D. D., and Mrs. Stroud. His brothers are Harry G. Wilson, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Hugh W. Wilson, of Columbia, S. C.; and Clyde S. Wilson, of Belmont, Mass.

Mr. Wilson holds a responsible position with the American Fruit Growers' Association. After a motor trip through California Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will be at home in Sanford, Fla.

ADDITIONAL PRIVILEGE GIVEN MOTOR CARRIERS

Motor carriers holding Class "B" certificates may now pick up property for transport on fixed routes over which Class "A" trucks travel, under a new rule promulgated by the Georgia Public Service Commission.

Formerly, Class "B" carriers have not been permitted to load any products on a fixed route served by truck companies rated with "A" certificates. With paved roads multiplying, the commission took the position that the territory of the former was being gradually reduced.

Motor carriers holding "B" certificates have been allowed heretofore to haul on no fixed routes, and without scheduled points.

MRS. GLENN HASTY IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. Glenn Hasty, a life-long resident of Monticello, Ga., until she went with her husband several years ago to New Orleans, where he is registrar of Tulane University, died Thursday night at a New Orleans hospital, according to information received here by her aunt, Mrs. F. A. Smith, of 1035 Greenwood avenue, northeast.

Mrs. Hasty was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Smith, prominent Monticello residents, and a niece of M. O. Hollis, of Atlanta.

NEW DRESS STORE

New York Company To Open Wholesale Place Here.

A new wholesale dress store will be opened at 143-147 Pryor street by the Fair Waist and Dress Company, of New York city, Jerry Kaufman, local representative, announced yesterday. Atlanta was selected as the best business site for the store, he said.

The new firm will be situated in offices leased for it by Samuel Rothberg, real estate man, in the building owned by J. J. Haverty, opposite the courthouse. At present the store and stock room are being remodeled.

Subsidiaries of the Fair Waist and Dress Company are the Flashy Dress and the Inter-Size Dress Corporations, Mr. Kaufman said.

State May Build Own Power Plant For 4 Institution at Milledgeville

The state may go into the light and power business on an abbreviated scale if the cost of installing a plant at Milledgeville is not too high.

Milledgeville is the home of Georgia's prison farm, college for women, insane asylum and training school for boys.

The Board of Control, which has supervision over the state's eleemosynary institutions, adopted a resolution yesterday at the instance of Governor Talmadge to survey the power situation and see if it is feasible to erect a generating and distributing plant.

"If it is practical," said E. E. Lindsey, chairman of the board, "we will take up the matter seriously."

Asked if the state would finance the undertaking, Lindsey said that the intention provided the expense is not beyond "the scope of the treasury." He estimated roughly the cost would be approximately $500,000.

Spends $1,800 a Month.

At present the state is spending about $1,800 per month for power and light at Milledgeville.

The resolution asked Harry P. Meikleham, of Lindale, to make the survey, including cost of installing a modern heating system along with the electric plant.

In a quarterly report to the board, Chairman Lindsey said cash balances of nine of the eleemosynary institutions totaled $40,150 to date, not including the Milledgeville hospital.

"That's about the amount of indebtedness a year ago," he commented. "We are all paid up to July in accounts except accounts for the Academy for the Blind and this institution will create a surplus through the summer to offset the deficit."

Lindsey also asked the Board of Control to mandamus Ordinary Oswell R. Eve, of Richmond county, if necessary, to transfer twenty "custodial" cases from the Gracewood Home for Mental Defectives to the Milledgeville hospital.

In written report to the board, Lindsey expressed fear that "if we do not move them from Gracewood, by a simple operation of their growing into men and women, this institution will grow into another hospital for the insane."

Gracewood, located near Augusta, now has 60 inmates over 21 years of age, and 22 of them are of such low mentality they are absolutely no help and are only custodial cases," said Lindsey.

Attorney-General Rules.

He asserted the ordinary has "refused" to investigate these cases to Milledgeville although Attorney-General M. J. Yeomans has ruled that he should.

The attorney-general has ruled in case the ordinary refuses further, to mandamus him in order to make him carry out the duties of the job," the chairman continued. "However, he has expressed a desire to talk with me and I plan to go to Augusta in the very near future and go over the matter with Judge Eve and try to effect an amicable settlement of the controversy."

In taking boys and girls to replace those to be transferred, Lindsey suggested selecting inmates who can be benefited by training.

Governor Orders Probe Of Kosnoffsky's Record

Governor Talmadge yesterday ordered an investigation of the record of Harry Kosnoffsky, now serving life in Georgia in connection with the slaying of Bennie Lichtenstein.

Atlanta businessman has at one time escaped from the death cell in the Illinois state prison.

The charge was made during a clemency hearing for J. D. Lee, life term in the same case, convicted largely on a confession by Kosnoffsky.

Arthur W. Powell, Lee's attorney, said Kosnoffsky told him he had once been condemned to death for murder in Illinois.

Asked by the Governor if the office had ever investigated the Illinois record of Kosnoffsky, assistant solicitor-general of the Fulton county superior court, said he had never heard of it except from Powell.

"Well, you have fingerprints made of Kosnoffsky and have them compared with the fingerprints of every man who has been sentenced to death in Illinois and let's get at the bottom of this matter," the Governor instructed LeCraw.

Governor Talmadge took the case under advisement.

ALBANY CRASH VICTIM REPORTED NEAR DEATH

Hammond W. Washington, of 789 Ponce de Leon avenue, N. E., yesterday was in "very grave" condition in an Albany, Ga., hospital, from internal injuries suffered July 16 when an automobile in which he was riding with Walter T. Colburn, Atlanta attorney, overturned near Camilla.

Washington, a special investigator for the Georgia Power Company, was taken to the hospital the day following the accident after he complained of abdominal pains. He was not thought seriously injured when examined shortly after the crash. An operation was performed and he was believed to be recovering when his condition became worse.

Judge Colburn was not injured in the accident, which occurred when his automobile skidded on wet pavement. Washington is said to have grabbed the wheel.

Wagner Pleads Guilty.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 25.—(AP) In the midst of his trial for attempted extortion, Alfred Otto Wagner, called a "misery chiseler" by the chief of the New York police, pleaded guilty to violation of the Lindbergh law and was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Mother of Seven Irked By Gift of Pink Panties

Pink panties, of the 10-cent variety, were flaunted in the courtroom of Judge T. O. Hathcock yesterday as evidence in the case of Mrs. Daisy Starnes, of Griffin street, who charged her blind husband, Paul W. Starnes, a fortune teller, with abandonment of his seven minor children.

Starnes charged some man named "Homer" sent the pink panties to his wife, from whom he is separated, by special delivery messenger. Mrs. Starnes replied that "any man who would send me such a gift by special messenger would certainly pay more than 10 cents for the garment." She charged that Starnes sent the clothing to her himself.

Judge Hathcock decided that no matter where the panties came from Starnes should help support his seven children. He ordered the blind fortune teller to contribute $5 a week to their upkeep.

BOOK-GAME

$1,800 in Cash Prizes for Book Titles!

By THE BOOK-GAME EDITOR.

Among the many pleasing things about the $1,800 Book-Game is this: All entrants are having a grand time, because matching the pictures with appropriate titles challenges the imagination, sharpens the wits and provides the finest kind of diversion. As Bliss Perry, professor of English literature at Harvard, points out, this unusual type of contest is "as much fun as golf, and much safer than playing the markets."

In order to accommodate late starters after the rich cash prizes, duplicates of all of the pictures to date are being kept in stock. The first 12 pictures may be had for the asking at The Constitution office, or by mail for a 3-cent stamp. Pictures beyond No. 12 are 5 cents apiece when bought singly, 30 cents for any eight pictures, or $1.25 for half the series—40 pictures. Mail orders for back pictures must be accompanied by 3 cents extra for postage.

the book titles are quoted? I have already written some of mine and quoted them. I have been in a good many contests but this is the most interesting.—T. McEl, Douglasville, Ga.

A Book titles may be quoted if you wish, but it is not necessary. Sorry!

Q. Please advise me if I can get all of the pictures up to date.—Mrs. J. R. L., Yazoo City, Miss.

A. The Constitution's Book-Game is restricted to residents of Georgia and adjacent states, and you would not be eligible to take part.

Thank You!

I think the Book-Game is very interesting.—Miss F. S. Montezuma, Georgia.

Thank You!

The Book-Game is the most fascinating contest I have ever seen. I am thoroughly enjoying it.—Mrs. W. P. K., Manchester, Ga.

Cash prizes totaling $1,800 are to be awarded followers of the Book Game. The first prize is $1,000, the second prize $400, the third $100, the fourth $75 and the fifth $25. Then there are 10 prizes of $10 each and 20 prizes of $5 each.

The prizes will be given to those who send in the most appropriate book title answers for the series of 80 pictures. All residents of Georgia and adjacent states, who have not won $1,000 or more in a previous contest conducted by this newspaper, are eligible to take part. Contestants do not have to obtain subscriptions in order to qualify for any of the prizes, and non-subscribers are eligible. There are no letters to write, essays to compose or extra pictures or puzzles to solve, and it is not necessary to register.

The pictures and answers are NOT to be submitted NOW. WAIT until ALL the pictures have been published, then bring them in with your answers, as a set.

The Play.

West led the ace of hearts and continued with the deuce. This lead of a doubleton suit headed by an ace is usually a poor choice, but in this case it rattled the king into "jumping in."

With West's lead marked as a doubleton, South won the heart trick in his own hand with the king and rushed to extract three rounds of trumps forgetting that he needed two entries to the North hand to take the club finesse. The result was that with only the queen of hearts for entry, South took the club suit in one go, once and when the ace failed to drop the king was set one trick, losing one heart, one club and two diamonds.

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

Mr. Culbertson will send to any reader who will enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope with his request, a booklet containing the new rules, discussing changes in the rules and discussing the etiquette of Contract. The request should be addressed to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Culbertson on Contract

By ELY CULBERTSON.

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Sandwiched by Dangers.

Today we shake our heads sympathetically over the sad story of the man who drowned because he was afraid of burning. A non-swimmer, he was panic-stricken when fire broke out on board his ship. The fire was gaining rapidly and would take several seconds to grab a life-preserver. There was a good chance that he could reach a life preserver before the fire reached him—yet in his dread of the fire he forgot his fear of the water and sat to wait for the fire to reach him.

Many a bridge hand has been sunk without trace because the declarer, fearing danger in one direction, unthinkingly leaped to certain destruction in the other.

MAKING FULL USE OF THE DUMMY.

Making full use of dummy's entries if often more necessary than the apparently safer but actually hopeless course of extracting trumps. Before a good player leads he always considers whether that suit could not just as well be led from the other hand and some more important use should be made of the right to lead from the hand that has taken the last trick. In this respect the factor of safety must sometimes be sacrificed to the needs of time.

South, dealer.

Three Races Added To Lakewood Card

Three motorcycle races have been added to a program of bicycle racing and motorcycle "crash" Sunday afternoon at Lakewood park. A two, three and five-mile race for members of the Dixie Motorcycle Club were added to the program Friday afternoon. The cycle races will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Harley Taylor, veteran automobile racer and motorcycle rider, will "crash" through a burning wall, in the feature event of the afternoon. The one-inch wall will be constructed in front of the grandstand and will be ignited shortly before Taylor rides through.

A 10 and 25-mile bicycle race to select the city's entries for the annual Georgia state bicycle races August 4 at Savannah, Ga., will open the program at 1:30 o'clock. Officials of the Atlanta Bicycle Club are co-operating with Weyman Boyles, director of free attractions for Lakewood park, and the Dixie Motorcycle Club, in sponsoring the afternoon's program.

The entire card will be presented in front of the grandstand and will be free to the public.

Down the Alleys

With the Sunday school summer league having the best representation in the entry list, the handicap duck-pin sweepstakes that will be bowled at Bluck's Bowling Center tonight at 8 o'clock is expected to have a record number of participants competing for the five awards.

From the Sunday school roster J. P. Burnett, J. C. Banks, L. E. Bradford, P. S. Denison, T. P. Talley, Walter Bryan Adkins, A. Parks, Callahan, Kelly, W. Parks, Monrope, Whitley, F. Hope, H. Hope, H. W. Pearce, C. Elrod, S. Jones, Miller, Brown, B. T. Carter, Camp, Bull, Ford and Grist were lost to the Atlanta Black Crackers.

The Jacksonville nine has not been here this season and fans here are very eager to see them. They will come in from Jacksonville early this morning by train. All games will start promptly at 3:30 o'clock. There will be plenty of good seats for the fans. There will be special reservations for white people.

SCAFFA CONVICTED ON THREE COUNTS

ON THREE COUNTS

Private Detective Faces 15-Year Term and Fine of $2,000.
NEW YORK, July 26.—(AP)—Noel Macaffa, private detective, was convicted today of kidnapping and harboring a fugitive.

Scaffa was convicted on three counts of perjury and acquitted on four. Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years' imprisonment.

The verdict was returned less than six hours after the jury had retired. Scaffa offered no defense, his attorney contending the government had failed to establish a case against him.

The case involved the theft and subsequent recovery of jewelry owned by Mrs. Margaret Hawkesworth Bell, former dancer.

DERBY DAY CELEBRATION VALUES FOR THE ALL-AMERICAN

GREATEST AMATEUR RACING EVENT IN THE WORLD.

DEDICATED TO ATLANTA'S "YOUNG BLOODS"

Atlanta's 1935 Soap Box Derby To Be Run on North Side Drive on Saturday Afternoon

More Than 400 Boys Enter Homemade Racing Cars

A. A. A. Officials Will Control Final Heats in Event To Be Staged on North Side Drive Near Wesley Avenue. Winner to Compete in National Races.

The place is Northside drive at Wesley avenue. The time is 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

The occasion is the final heats of the 1935 Atlanta Soap Box Derby and the contestants are survivors of the elimination heats, already run, of more than 400 boys who have raced in the speedsters they designed and built this summer in their own back yards.

Co-sponsored by The Constitution and the Chevrolet dealers of the Atlanta area, this event is one of the most thrilling and inspiring sporting occasions of the year.

Keen-faced youngsters, determination lined into every feature and with the sparkle of do-or-die in every eye, ride their home-made mounts down the hill course, depending on the velocity of gravity and the speed of the wheels, the streamlining against the wind they have built into their cars.

Many Prizes.

For the winners, not only of first, second and third places, but of other places down into the 'teens, are valuable prizes and for every boy are mementoes of his race. Yet, more than this, for them all is the fun and the experience of making their own cars, of studying the factors that make for speed, regardless of motive power and of exercising that native-born ingenuity which is the birthright of every true American boy.

For the winner of first place in the final race, there is a trip to Akron, Ohio, and participation in the national Soap Box Derby there. There is the honor of carrying the banner of Atlanta into competition with the champions of 60 other cities and, well worth striving for, there is a four-year college course in any state college of his choice for the victor, a Chevrolet master sedan for winner of second place and a Chevrolet standard sedan for the third prize.

But the Akron races are not yet. Today there is the Atlanta Derby and time enough for any boy to dream of national championship after he has won his own city's race.

Competent Men in Charge.

Men who have had years of experience in conducting automobile races will be in charge of the derby. A full list of officials is published in another column of this special section of The Constitution. Among those men are three, Wayman Boyles, Jack Strouss and Don Kinne, who are regular licensed officials of the AAA, men who have spent years starting, timing and conducting the races of real automobiles, the speeding juggernauts of the track that roar around the famous racing paths of the nation.

There are prizes galore for winners and for runners-up. There are emblems and medals and real, motor-driven miniature cars. There are radios and clothes, sweaters and watches and ice cream and racers' helmets and camping tents and bicycles and scores of other prizes to be won. Likewise, a complete list of awards is to be scanned in another column.

And there will be tens of thousands of spectators.

Thrill for Spectators.

Atlantans know from previous years what a thrill there is in these Soap Box races. The thrill of speed and the thrill of keenest competition. But most of all the thrill of seeing clean young manhood displaying its prowess in a sport that belongs to youth. The thrill of competition that is sportsmanlike throughout and the thrill of entering into the hearts of hopes and dreams of boyhood once again.

It takes any man back, for an hour or two, to the days of his own boyhood, when dreams were merely realities to come true in time, when the great world held out its rosiest promise and when ambition soared high, unhampered by the cloying touch of disappointment and experience.

To the winner of the Soap Box Derby—good luck through life.

To those who do not run—a cheer for your courage and your effort, a prayer for your continued ability to try and an envy for the spirit that prompted you to enter and do your best.

For, to every boy who does his best, victory is secondary. It is the trying that counts and the good sport that loses may gain more than his rival who wins.

AUTO SALES SHOW BUYING POWER RISE

Chevrolet Standards Reflect General Improvement as Sales Jump.

In announcing the new Chevrolet lines for 1935, officials of the Chevrolet Motor Company predicted last January that the country's gradual recovery of buying power would create a heavy demand for the new improved standard models, which combined the advantages of performance and economy with low first cost.

How correct they were in this prediction may be gauged by figures just released by W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager of Chevrolet. Sales of standard models through June, Mr. Holler said, totaled 137,128 units. This is a gain of more than 366 per cent over the figures for the corresponding period in 1934.

"Automobile buying is following fairly closely along the lines indicated by our advance surveys," Mr. Holler said. "Thousands of individuals whom economic conditions had deprived of their cars entirely are returning to the market, buying, for the most part, used cars. Other thousands, located in the financial stratum just above these, are graduating from used cars to new cars in the lowest price range, notably Chevrolet standard models. It is this general increase of purchasing power, all along the line, that has brought about the sharp increase in standard sales, we believe."

One reason why Chevrolet has been able to secure so much of this business in the lowest priced field, Mr. Holler added, has been the marked improvement in performance engineered into the standard line. Its engine develops 23 per cent more power than in 1934, and economy and durability also are substantially improved.

Youth Forecasts Death.

DARTMOUTH, N. S.—(UP)—"I will never live to be 17," Garnet Wambolt told his mother. The next day, on the eve of his birthday, he was struck down and fatally injured by an automobile.

Stodghill, John Smith Company; Charlie Barron, Downtown Chevrolet Company, and Royce C. Dobbs, of The Constitution.

ROBIN'S NEST MOVED BY LARGE SHOVEL

GENEVA, N. Y.—(UP)—While a gasoline-motored shovel stood idle for several days at the new Geneva sewage treatment plant, a robin built her nest in the uppermost part of the 50-foot beam.

When it became necessary to use the shovel, the operator swung the beam against a near-by tree, mounted the boom and carefully transferred the nest and eggs to a secure position in the tree.

The robin fluttered around, scolding, but took possession of her nest and eggs in the new location, immediately after the transfer was completed.

A Natural.

S. Lloyd Ganoce, of Fairmont, Va., the man who issues fishing licenses, asked the applicant if he had ever been naturalized. The applicant said "No." Ganoce said he was sorry he couldn't issue a license. "I'm more of an American than you are," the applicant challenged. He was too—full-blooded Indian.

CHEVROLET PRESIDENT LAUDS EVERY ENTRANT

Winning Not So Valuable as Making and Entering Races, Says Coyle.

Every boy who entered the Soap Box Derby in any city in the United States has reason to be proud of his accomplishment, whether he wins his local Soap Box Derby or whether he just participated, said M. E. Coyle, president of Chevrolet Motor Company. "It is not so much the race itself that is valuable to the young men of tomorrow," he continued, "as it is the fact that they have taken pieces of wood and iron and with their hands formed them into four-wheel vehicles that would run.

Coyle Writes Message

M. E. Coyle, president, Chevrolet Motor Company.

"It was pioneering of this sort that was responsible for the automobile of today. The development of all worthwhile inventions is the result of men who worked and tried. The fact that so many boys entered this contest and that they worked and tried, even if they did not win, is a fine indication of the spirit they will display in later years when they have taken their place among the workmen in industry.

"Chevrolet feels that it has been a privilege to act as co-sponsor of 53 of America's leading newspapers—in a constructive activity of this kind. To the boys who are entered in The Constitution contest we say in full sincerity—may the best car win."

GARNER FAVORS FISHING IN CANOE

Vice President Likes Smell Of Woods, Smoke from Camp Fire.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—"Cactus Jack" Garner's idea of a good fishing trip is to paddle his canoe along and grin as he criticizes the way other anglers cast and handle their fish.

A kink in his right shoulder prevents him from tossing plugs with his old accuracy. The white-haired, 68-year-old vice president cannot get his rod back far enough now for a long flip.

"It's more fun kidding other folks than having them kid you," he said today.

"Besides, I like the exercise I get from paddling the canoe. I enjoy the scenery and the isolation from worries."

That's the reason he prefers fishing in lakes and streams to salt water fishing—not enough scenery.

"Then," the Texan added, "I like to camp out, to smell the woods and smoke from a camp fire. I gather the wood build the fires, row the boat and do other chores and let the other folks do most of the fishing."

In other years Garner waded into the streams but now all his fishing is done from a canoe or boat. He uses all kinds of different baits and flies. He's caught some pretty big fish, but he can't remember the biggest.

"Besides, all fishermen are liars," Garner concluded, his eyes twinkling under bushy eyebrows.

NEGRO IS GIVEN DOG UNTIL OWNER IS FOUND

With the permission of police, a fine, big German police dog is in the hands of Mead Johnson, Atlanta negro, until its owner is found.

Johnson became worried when all efforts to make the dog stop following him failed. He led on to police headquarters and there explained his predicament.

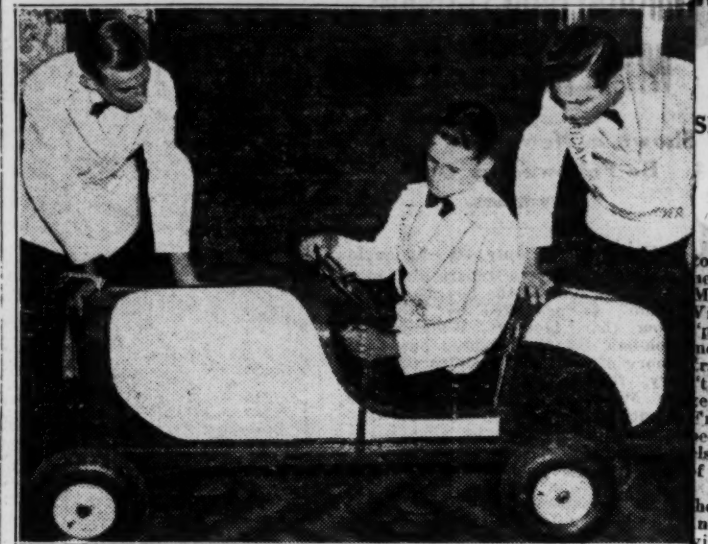

"That dog seems to like you," said one officer to the negro.

"He sure does," replied Johnson, "I can't make him go away."

"Well, keep him until somebody calls for him," the officer said.

Real Little Auto Is Prize for Derby Winner

"The Leo Special," motor-driven miniature car built by J. G. Young of LaGrange, will be the prize for the winner of this year's Soap Box Derby in Atlanta. It is given by Loew's Grand theater.

'Luckiest' Set of Starting Flags To Wave 'Go' Signal for Derby

Starter's flags that have waved away from the starting line some of the most famous automobile racers of the past 15 years will signal the entrants, more than 400 of them, in the 1935 Soap Box Derby to be run on Northside drive this Saturday.

Wayman Boyles, official AAA starter, is proud of the flags he has used for 15 years, proud because they have yet to start their first race marred by accident. They are known among auto racing men as the "lucky" flags.

Here are a few of the "big shots" in the auto racing world who have watched these flags for the signal to go: "Cannon Ball" Baker, whose transcontinental Franklin broke all coast-to-coast records. Ab Jenkins, with his Studebaker Champion that broke all stock records.

Ralph de Palma, the greatest race driver of them all.

Young Strubling, Georgia's prize ring fighter, who rode out these flags in the only auto race ever drove.

Sig Haugdahl, the first man to drive a car at the rate of 180 miles an hour, or 3 miles a minute.

Ches Gardner, Ken Flower, "B" Stapp, Herman Schurch and many others.

"Any day that these flags run the track," said Boyles yesterday, "driver has ever had an accident of any kind. They have been used on bicycle, motorcycle, auto and soap box races for 15 years and they are the 'luckiest' flags I ever heard of."

Most flags have one, two or three accidents marked up against them before they are worn out.

MIKADO GAINS CHARM WITH PASSING OF TIME

Shown in New York, It Will Be Followed by Other Favorites.

NEW YORK, July 26.—It ought to be sufficient to report that the newest addition to the boards is "the Mikado" as presented by Lodewick Vroom, that Herbert Waterous as "pooh-bah" as he has been since the memory of man saith not to the contrary, that William Danforth is "the Mikado" as he has been for generations and generations, that Frank Moulton is, as he always has been, "ko-ko" and that everything else, including the treacherous part of Katisha is in equally apt hands. It is perhaps needless to add that it is most popular of all the Gilbert and Sullivan operettas gains charm with the passing of the years. This is due, of course, partly to the sensational excellence of the fun, partly to the heady charm of the music and, it ought to be pointed out, partly to its place in time. It has stood now for 50 years as a serene haven, an unembittered Eden for those who wish to escape for at least two hours from the shock of every day living. And today, when the average man's life is like a headline jerking and startling through a blare of events, there are not Edens enough to spare, and certainly there are not many havens where the earth rocks with laughter and the air rings with enchanted song.

"The Mikado" will be followed by many other of the Gilbert and Sullivan operettas as there is demand for. The demand seems to be well sustained. On the hot and breathless night I attended, the large theater was packed with devotees.

"Jumbo" Grows Bigger.
The latest bulletin from the agitated madhouse in which Billy Rose's "Jumbo" is being hammered into "a musical comedy revolving about backstage life at a circus" is to the effect that Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante "eighty per cent through rehearsals" the two songs he will sing during the entertainment.

This is not quite so simple as it sounds, since Mr. Durante's habit is to fashion songs in his own image. He has his own laws of harmony, dashes bars to fit his gestures and insists on music that will permit him to crowd a gavotte, a polka and a taltz into a maximum of three seconds. Scholarly Lorenz Hart and meticulously erudite Richard Rodgers, the music writers, are thus almost continuously in a condition that can best be described as pale and considerably shaken.

Arthur Sinclair, the sedate dean of the lofty Abbey theater, is preparing himself for his part by familiarizing himself with elephants. And A. P. Ray, late of the Theater Guild, is practicing a Cockney accent. Chorus girls are learning to prance their treasures on the backs of galloping horses and Ella Logan and Donald Davis, who will be lovers in the show, are climbing all the high places available to get used to the big wedding scene which will take place on the aerial trapeze.

It sounds like the biggest, wildest, maddest thing scheduled for Broadway in years.

"Sure, sure, sure," says Mr. Rose abstractedly. "I'm going wild."

The Light That Failed.
Walking down Forty-fourth street, Sam Harris, the producer, stopped abruptly and pointed:

"See that man," he said. "He's been writing plays for years and he's never had one produced. His scripts come into my office regularly and I always insist on reading them myself. I think I'm the only producer on Broadway who gives them that much of a chance. To the rest of them, it's a has-been who never got started."

"Well, some years ago right after Jeanne Eagels finished making history and my fortune with 'Rain,' I hunted through half the world for a good, strong follow-up, something that wouldn't let Jeanne down and wouldn't let me down. Well, he brought a script in and it was a knockout. It was made for her. No one else could play it. She was in Hollywood then and I sent it off to her. She came back raving, but before we could go into production she died."

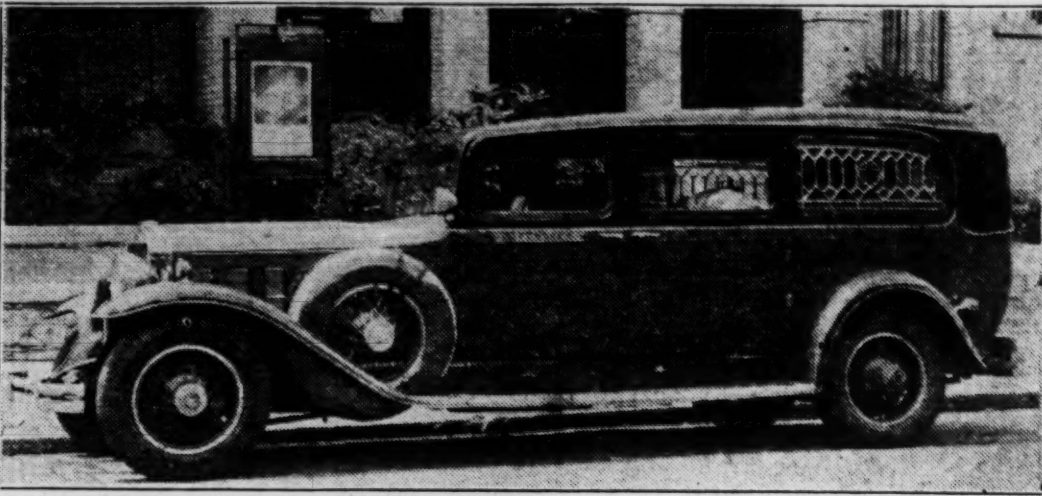

The epitaph Mr. Harris put down himself: "She lost her life. I lost a million bucks. He lost—a career."

From Little Acorns.
A slim and tremble-voiced little miss will step into the choicest assignment on Broadway Monday night, the leading role in "Anything Goes" which has been, since November, the No. 1 musical hit of the town. Benay Venuta will take over the chores of the Merman—and how did she get that way?

Well, it began in San Francisco at it didn't really get started until the Venuta girl, a student in Hollywood High school, got herself a job as part of the ensemble in the prelude to the picture, "The Big Parade." She made a roaring success of scenery and at 13 was graduated a role in the chorus of a Pacific coast production of Vinton Freedley's "Tip Toes." That opened up the glittering world of vaudeville and she spent two years in a Fanchon & Marco unit.

From that it was only a step to

Ambulance That Will Attend Derby as Precaution

San Francisco's radio station SPO where she sang, wrote continuity, helped produce and sold radio accounts. Then, five years ago, the Columbia Broadcasting System beckoned and Miss Venuta came flying. She did not hit New York until a few months ago, but when she did she hit hard and the town was bowled over.

Cole Porter, Vinton Freedley, Russell Crouse and Howard Lindsay sat in judgment over 50 musical comedy stars. Mr. Porter, author of the show's songs, said "Benay" and everybody else added, "Who can say no?"

NEW CAMBRIA, Kan., July 26.—(UP)—C. S. Bucher, sand pumping plant attendant on the Smoky river here, has a chart of prehistoric animals from which he catalogues bones he frequently discovers.

But now he's stumped. He's dug up a bone he can't classify.

The bone is 13 inches long, four inches across one end and five at the other.

He also recently found a tusk probably 20 inches long before it was broken.

BARRYMORE IS DOWN TO VERY LAST YACHT

Records of County's Tax Collector Furnish Interesting Information.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 26.—(AP) John Barrymore is virtually down to his last yacht.

Joan Crawford has more jewels than "Diamond Lil" Mae West.

Charles Chaplin is the wealthiest movie star.

Harold Lloyd is the screen's largest landholder.

These are some of the facts written into the records of the county tax collector, now that the time approaches again for collecting taxes. Many of the stars own property outside Los Angeles county, of course.

Assessed Valuation.
John Barrymore's assessed valuation today is $56,575, of which $56,350 is his yacht, the Infanta. A year ago the gross assessment was $96,440, with the yacht on the rolls as worth $59,040.

Joan Crawford and Joe E. Brown share a rare distinction. They are worth more than last year. The assessed valuation of the wide-mouthed comedian this year is $111,155, compared with $55,150 last year. Joan's figure, on the rolls is $66,010, while last year it was $65,965.

Mae West is down for $1,600, mostly jewelry, while the jewelry alone of Joan Crawford is more than twice that assessed valuation.

Charles Chaplin finds the assessed valuation of $2,692,490 compared with $3,051,220 last year, mostly stock and bonds.

Mary Pickford is listed at $1,465,740, compared with $1,950,770 last year and $1,685,390 the year before.

Fairbanks on High Seas.
Douglas Fairbanks is on the high seas, and his wealth seems as far away in the eyes of the tax collector, for the rolls show only $39,540 assessed valuation, compared with $1,065,530 last year and $1,696,980 the year before.

William P. Rogers—that's how the county writer the name of the film comedian—is assessed at $226,440, compared with $322,920 last year, his land holdings being assessed at $221,230.

Harold C. Lloyd, of the thick-rimmed glasses, is down for $443,640, compared with $861,545 last year. His land holdings are assessed at $390,980.

Richard Barthelmess finds the figure of $374,880, compared with last year's $409,340. Constance Bennett's valuation is $146,015, while last year it was $190,025. Gloria Swanson dropped from $34,630 last year to $9,750.

Norma Shearer's property valuation is $305,560; Ann Harding's $192,070; Tom Mix's $38,550, and Ruth Chatterton's $21,340.

BROTHERS MAKE OWN ELECTRICITY

Plant Costing $50 Furnishes Power and Light for Farm and Home.

NEWTON, S. C., July 26.—(AP)—Charles and Gordon Weaver have electrified their farm and home with a small water power plant of their own construction. The total cost of setting up the plant and wiring the house came to less than $50.

Obtaining most of the parts second-hand, they set up a small generator driven by an eight-foot water wheel. They dammed a stream on the farm and dug a ditch 200 yards long to convey the water from the pond, around a hill, to the water wheel.

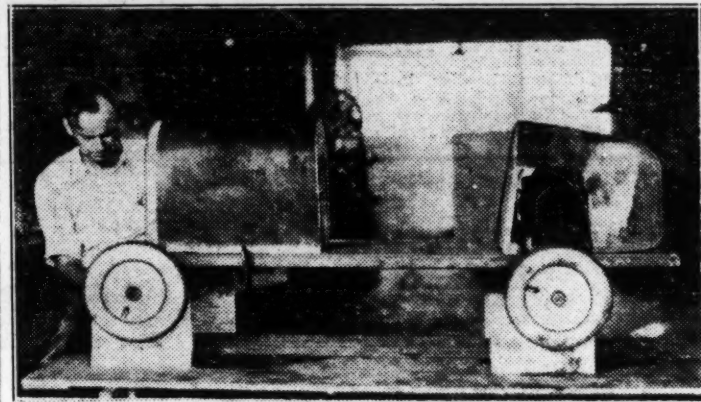

By means of pulleys and wires running from the house to the water gate, the Weaver brothers are able to regulate the flow of water over the wheel without leaving their home.

The generator furnishes power to light the house and barn, and to operate a number of small motors and electrical appliances in the home and on the farmstead.

A centrifugal pump which can be connected directly to the water wheel supplies water under pressure for washing their cars and similar purposes.

ation is $305,560; Ann Harding's $192,070; Tom Mix's $38,550, and Ruth Chatterton's $21,340.

Imposing Array of Prizes For Soap Box Derby Boys

Winners in Various Heats Get Awards as Well as Long Grand Prize List.

Every boy who has entered the Atlanta Soap Box Derby will come out with some prize, and those who win the various heats will have prizes of which they will be proud for years to come. And to those who carry off the grand prizes—the gifts awaiting them are almost too gorgeous to mention.

In the first place every entrant, no matter how he fares in the race, will get one of those "turret top" racing hats presented by the Fisher Body Company. And every boy who reaches the finals will get a splendid sweater, given by J. M. High Company.

Winner of the first grand prize will, of course, get the M. E. Coyle engraved Soap Box Derby emblematic trophy, standing 20 inches high. He will go to the national Soap Box Derby finals at Akron, Ohio, all expenses paid. Prizes there are, first, a four-year course at any state college; second, a Chevrolet Master Sedan; and third, a Chevrolet Standard Sedan.

Atlanta's first prize winner will also receive a gold medal and the "Leo Special," a miniature motor car, with a real motor, which is donated by Loew's Grand theater.

Winner of second place will get the American Oil Company trophy, a silver medal, another motor-driven miniature car, the "Young Special," and other awards.

Third prize winner gets the Bill Breitenstein trophy, a bronze medal and a Delco all-wave home radio, given by United Motors Service.

Winners of various heats will win a meal for the entire family at Harvey's restaurant, six jiffy bicycle stands given by Berry Cohen, four beautifully engraved wrist watches, given by E. A. Morgan, jewelers, Bookout Jewelry Company, A. L. Belle Isle and Colonial Bread; a United States Army Curtiss Swift aeroplane kit, given by Miller's Book Store, etc.

Grand Prizes.
Following the first three grand prizes other grand awards will be as follows:

Rollfast bicycle, given by King Hardware Company, and Cowan-Boze Company.

G. E. Auto Radio, given by Prior Tire Company.

Fifty-two quarts of ice cream (quart a week for one year), given by Foremost Dairies.

Three boys camping tents, given by Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills.

Complete boy's Palm Beach outfit, given by Muse Clothing Company.

Suit of clothes (for builder of best car), given by Camp and Eason, boys department in Parks-Chambers.

Sport shoes, given by Hyde Shoe Store.

Piano accordion and 20 free lessons, given by Bob Burns, accordion teacher.

145TH BIRTHDAY NEARS FOR U. S. COAST GUARD

Crews Are Stationed at Strategic Points to Protect Life and Property.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 26.—(UP)—The federal government's No. 1 humanitarian organization, the United States Coast Guard, will celebrate its 145th birthday next month.

Created in 1790 primarily as a defensive measure, the Coast Guard plays a dual role with a myriad of duties, many of which go unheralded and are unknown to the citizenry generally.

In time of war the Coast Guard becomes automatically a division of the navy. It serves under the Treasury Department in time of peace and performs numerous duties for the government and humanity.

Stationed at strategic points throughout American waters, crews are on duty constantly to protect life and property, to enforce marine and other laws, and to warn of impending dangers on coastal waters.

Its heroic life-saving and romantic rum-running activities are well known, but a few of the little-known activities of the organization are the following:

The coast guard has the unique duty of transporting the "floating court" to Alaska, where justice is meted out at various points when necessary. The organization is a law enforcement body in itself and is charged with enforcing the customs laws, navigation and other laws governing merchant vessels and motorboats, rules and regulations governing anchorages of vessels, laws providing for the safety of all persons participating in regattas or marine parades on navigable waters. Laws of immigration, quarantine and neutrality fall to the organization for enforcement.

In another scope of the multiple activities, the Coast guard acts as a protector of fish, birds and other game. It protects the fisheries on the high seas and Alaska. Seal and other come under its jurisdiction and Alaskan bird reservations are regulated by the Coast Guard. Smuggling not only of liquor, but of aliens, narcotics and all other contraband are prevented largely through efforts of the Coast Guard.

Still other duties include the suppression of mutinies on merchant vessels, assisting in flood relief, and patrolling northern waters for ice that might endanger safety of boats in the area.

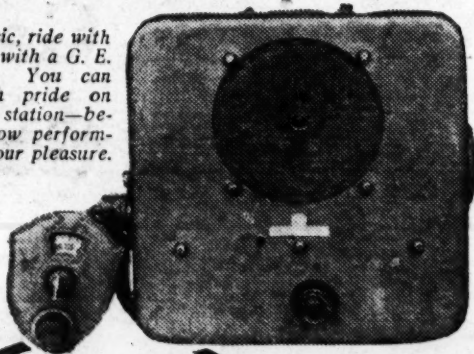

Further, the Coast Guard renders medical, dental and general welfare service to residents in Alaska and to persons aboard United States vessels engaged in deep-sea fishing. In addition, members of the service carry mail and collect statistics in the northern possession.

Coast guardsmen are by no means landlubbers, but in their spare time they frequently assist other departments of the government on land. They often assist in extinguishing fires even when they are miles from the shore, and in numerous cases they have joined with federal agents and other authorities in running down bootleggers and moonshiners in mountain country.

'POKE,' AMERICAN DISH, TO BE TRIED IN EUROPE

Cross Between Spinach and Asparagus Food of Southern Negroes.

LONDON, July 26.—The search began last year when a French epicure tasted a tantalizingly tempting, but to him unknown American dish called "poke," has been rewarded, and the dish, which is so old in the United States it apparently has been virtually forgotten, is to be introduced to Europe.

Andre L. Simon, president of the wine and food society, here, which strangely enough was founded and has prospered with no other purpose than to promote a greater interest in, knowledge and appreciation of the arts of the table, recently announced he had received a consignment of poke-weed seeds, and would undertake serious cultivation of the plant.

"Poke," as described by Simon to 200 Americans at a recent luncheon here, is a cross between spinach and asparagus in taste, and is only known as a table food among southern negroes, who have found a way to eliminate a somewhat harmful acid which develops in first cooking of the plant.

Simon tasted the dish in Maryland, but it remained for an elderly southern matron in Washington to give him its history and background.

The poke seeds have been distributed to members of the society with instructions the cultivated plant should be ready for a Fourth of July luncheon to Americans next year as a piece de resistance.

The wine and food society was organized in 1933 in an attempt to raise the standard of eating and drinking in England.

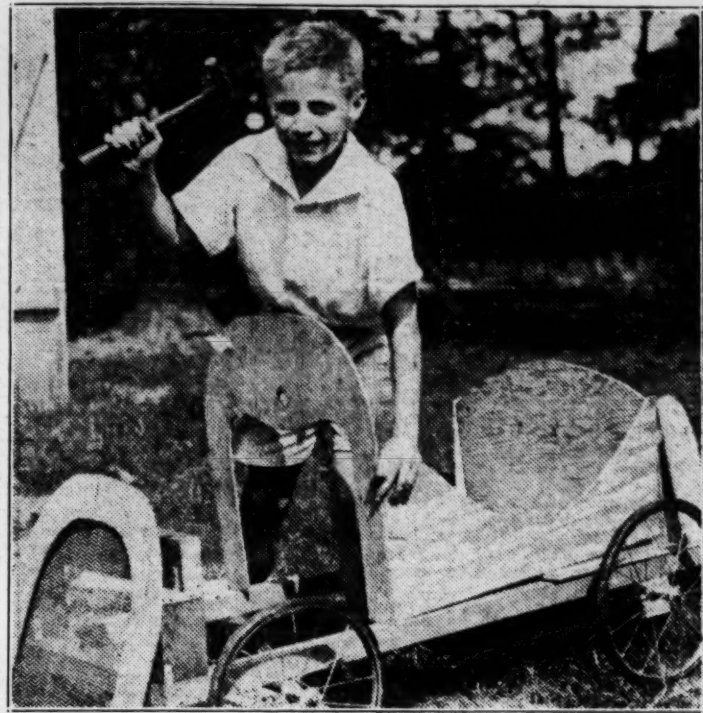

"The organizers," the society sets out in explaining its purpose, "desire to show that thought and care in eating and drinking offer far greater rewards than mere satisfaction of appetite, and that meals can be achieved without great expense."

The society, disclaiming any ulterior motives, nevertheless, has expressed the hope it will act as an effective deterrent to legislative restrictions in the time, place and choice of eating and drinking in England.

The society maintains a Fourmet's library, publishes a journal, and hopes to form chapters abroad.

Ostriches traditionally can digest anything, but the New York zoo lost a Darwin cassowary, ostrich-like bird, which tried to digest seven pop bottle tops, a metal doll, a wooden spool and a vanity case top.

GERMANS LEAD IN CHEMISTRY

Americans Have Won Only Three Nobel Prizes in Past 35 Years.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(UP)—Germany has forged far ahead of the rest of the world in the number of Nobel prize winners in chemistry. Professor Harrison Hale, of the University of Arkansas, said in an analysis published by the division of history of chemistry, American Chemical Society.

Twenty-nine prizes have been awarded to 32 chemists in eight countries since 1901, when the first awards were made under the will of Alfred Bernhard Nobel, "lover of peace and inventor of dynamite," Professor Hale revealed.

Germany has been awarded 13 prizes, England is second with 4 1-2, and the United States and France, with three each, are tied for third. Sweden is next with 2 1-2, while Switzerland, Holland and Austria have one each.

Omitting England, Professor Hale pointed out, Germany has won more than all other nations combined. Since the World War, awards have gone to only five countries, Germany, England, United States, Sweden and Austria.

American chemists have received the last two awards, following a lapse of 17 years after Theodore William Richards, of Harvard, was named first American Nobel prize winner of chemistry.

The prize has been presented three times to two chemists. No award was made in 1916, 1917, 1919, 1924 and 1933.

COAST GUARD STUDIES HABITS OF ICEBERGS

Cutter With 25 Men Aboard Sent to Labrador Deep To Make Survey.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(AP)—Suffering from the heat?

Then perhaps you may get some comfort thinking about a job that has been assigned 25 members of the coast guard. They are studying the home life and secret habits of icebergs.

The study has carried the 25 men, aboard the cutter General Greene, into the cold waters south of Greenland.

Rear Admiral Harry G. Hamlet, commandant of the coast guard, said today that the General Greene is surveying the Labrador deep and attempting to chart the iceberg path.

"Icebergs, coming down from the far north," said the admiral, "are swept around south Greenland and then are carried north again. The Labrador current catches them and in the spring sweeps them southward, carrying them along the Labrador shore and into the Atlantic ship lanes. We are making this study of the Labrador deep because it has never been made before."

In charge of this expedition is Lieutenant G. Van A. Graves, senior ice observation officer of the coast guard. He has not been in sight of land since March, when he sailed for northern waters. With Graves is Floyd M. Soule, senior oceanographer.

In cities, about two-thirds of the deaths in automobile accidents are pedestrians; where in rural areas only one-third of such deaths are pedestrians.

Fisher "Turret Top" Headgear Worn by Boys as Protective Factor.

The hundreds of boys who will drive home-made coaster cars in the 1935 Atlanta Soap Box Derby, to be held under the sponsorship of Chevrolet and The Constitution, will be seen wearing a Fisher turret top safety helmet, official headgear for the races. The design follows closely the approved helmet used by all drivers in this year's 500-mile race at Indianapolis. The cars built by the boys are without tops—so, to take the place of the protective all-steel roof used in this year's Chevrolet master models, it was decided to put turret tops on the boys.

LOVE AFFAIR COSTS LIVES OF TWO MONKEYS

HOUSTON, Tex., July 26.—(UP) A triangle love affair resulted in two "murders" at the Houston zoo. Murphy, patriarch of a band of Rhesus monkeys, watched Pat, a bachelor, make improper advances toward his wife, Maggie. According to the monkey social rules, a male should never approach within reaching distance of another's mate.

Pat and Maggie broke the rule. The enraged Murphy seized Pat and with one bite severed his jugular vein. Maggie was the victim of a similar fate.

A similar case occurred several years ago when a Capuchin monkey was placed in a cage with a spider monkey and his wife.

Ballot Stuffing.

A new use for old, no account ballots was discovered in Los Angeles by the salvage division of the county rehabilitation department, which is shredding them and stuffing ticks for sleeping purposes by welfare clients. So far the only demand for a recount was from a transient sleeper who thought his "box" mattress was shy a few hundred general election ballots.

SILVER POLICY ISSUE IS BELIEVED FADING

Decline in Agricultural Exports Apparently Weakened Use of Program.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(UP) Progressive decline in United States exports of farm commodities has dulled the political glamour on the silver issue, and probably will make re-monetization of the white metal a subordinate although intensely debated issue in the 1936 national campaigns.

President Roosevelt's New Deal government has taken more steps for the benefit of silver than any administration since silver was demonetized in 1873, and the mining states of the Union have reason to be satisfied with a program which has doubled cash income to the mines.

As a national political issue, however, the silver program must attract support through inflationary effect upon commodities prices, and influence on international trade.

Union Needed.

In other words, the farmers of the middle west must join political forces with the miners of the Rocky mountains if a major issue is to be joined.

Unfortunately for the silver "inflationists," improved farm prices cannot be proved to have appreciated as a result of the silver program, although the drouth, AAA adjustment programs, devaluation of the gold dollar and other causes have effected considerable betterment.

The chief political argument in congress for a silver program was that exports of farm goods would be aided, due to the presumed favorable effect that an appreciation in silver might have on the purchasing capacity of silver-using and controlling countries.

Some Benefit; Others Lose.

In actual fact, the several steps in behalf of silver obviously have benefited silver producers in this and other countries; while silver-using nations, especially China, have found dear silver inconvenient because of its disturbing effect on their currencies, and curtailment of their advantages as exporters.

The silver purchase act of 1934 was approved by President Roosevelt on June 19. Since that date the indices of United States exports have averaged downward, with the decline far greater in case of agricultural than industrial products.

The monthly indices of volume of exports were as follows, the 1923-1932 average representing 100:

Agricultural—July (1934), 68; August, 58; September, 52; October, 49; November, 47; December, 43; January (1935), 48; February, 52; March, 43; April, 50.

Industrial—July (1934), 68; August, 72; September, 69; October, 68; November, 70; December, 67; January (1935), 77; February, 63; March, 83; April, 65.

Issue Takes Form.

With this background, the democrats cannot go to the electorate with the assertion that silver purchasing has aided the farmers, but obviously they will seek to derive the fullest political advantage in the improved conditions of mining states, and the benefit of the silver policy to securities of mines companies.

Republicans, on the other hand, would have little political capital to gain by agitating for a more drastic silver program, but at the same time would find it inexpedient to make a frontal attack against the purchase program which has aided seven important silver producing states.

The democratic platform in 1932 said:

"We advocate a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards and an international monetary conference called on the invitation of our government to consider the rehabilitation of silver and related questions."

Only Gold Stressed.

The republican plank said: "The republican party established and will continue to uphold the gold standard and will oppose any measure which will undermine the government's credit or impair the integrity of our national currency."

In view of the silver situation and the fact that devaluation of the dollar is an accomplished fact, many politicians believe that the logical monetary issue in the next campaign would relate to banking laws, and to international exchange stabilization—unless previously effected. The New Deal budget deficit also will be widely debated.

3 Medals for Winners

In addition to many valuable prizes, winners of first, second and third place in this year's Atlanta Soap Box Derby finals will receive gold, silver and bronze medals, as shown above.

A Ripping Joke.

"This is going to be funny," said the robber who reached into Rene Pomrenig's trouser pocket in Chicago, seized the lining, and jerked sharply. But judge for yourself. In the robber's grasp as he left was Pomrenig's purse, containing $483, the whole surrounded by the pocket and the seat of Pomrenig's trousers. Pomrenig's woman companion ran before he was "unseated."

LEGAL BIRTH CONTROL PROPOSED BY DOCTOR

Oklahoma M. D. Suggests
Spreading Information
Through State.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 26.—A proposal of Dr. L. H. Ritzhaupt, president of the Oklahoma Medical Association, to have the State Health Department disseminate legal birth control information throughout the state has met with approval of some Oklahoma club, social and civic leaders.

Most doctors and some ministers decline, however, to comment on plans of Dr. Ritzhaupt, a state senator, who said he expected to introduce a bill in the next state legislature providing for an appropriation for legalizing dissemination of the information.

Expressing themselves as favoring the plan "if handled properly" are the Rev. H. H. Harmon, head of the Oklahoma City Ministerial Alliance; Mrs. Mabel Bassett, commissioner of charities and corrections; and Mrs. J. Hale Edwards, of Lawton, last year's president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs and chairman of a state committee for re-employment of women.

"I am inclined to favor national legislation as well as state laws for birth control, and I am sure a majority of the 10,000 clubwomen in Oklahoma will favor state birth control information," said Mrs. Edwards.

"Unless something is done along that line, the United States will have a large population of the underprivileged class. The higher class can obtain legitimate information from doctors, and the number of children in those families is smaller. The underprivileged class continues to have large families, offsetting the number from the higher class. The middle class would like to have the information but cannot always get it.

"The lower class is expecting the government to take care of the offspring."

"I have favored the dissemination of birth control information for many years as a matter of social well-being for families where both mother and children would suffer."

The Rev. Mr. Harmon declared the state had been "derelict" along that line and that there had been many deaths and much illness because of lack of proper information.

Mrs. Bassett said she would be in favor of the Ritzhaupt plan if the information were disseminated properly. She declared some such step was necessary from both an economic and health standpoint.

Missing Arm Puzzles Man.

D'FUNIAK SPRINGS, Fla., July 26.—(AP)—James White lost an arm and couldn't tell where to find it. He was picked up by a motorist who found him wandering about the country just after his arm had been severed. White didn't know what had happened. A few days later someone found an arm on a railroad track. A deputy sheriff said he had found White drunk and chased him. The man apparently laid down on a railroad track and went to sleep.

Miniature Motor Driven Autos Loaned for Derby

J. G. Young, of LaGrange, builder of "Miniature" cars, which are tiny motor-driven models, has loaned five of his machines to the derby committee, with two being offered as the grand prizes in the event. These little cars have been displayed at many Atlanta points and thousands of Atlanta children have enjoyed riding them for the past few weeks.

COLLEGE WILL HONOR FAMILY OF ROLLINS

Officials to Gather in Maine
To Pay Tribute to Brothers
Who Aided School.

WINTER PARK, Fla., July 26.—(UP)—Officials of Rollins College will pay tribute to the family for whom the college is named when they assemble at Lebanon Center, Maine, next month, the boyhood home of Alonzo W. and George A. Rollins.

Both brothers were early benefactors of the college. The college was named in honor of Alonzo in appreciation of his gift of $50,000 toward the original fund of $114,000 raised by the town of Winter Park to secure the site of the college after it had been conceived and proposed by the General Congregational Association of Florida 51 years ago. George A. Rollins supervised the construction of the first buildings and contributed generously to the funds of the struggling little institution.

The Rollins brothers were born in Lebanon Center, Maine, George on February 3, 1828, and Alonzo on March 20, 1832.

Both George and Alonzo were highly successful in their business careers. George worked as a carpenter as a young man in Boston and later became partner in the John Merrill & Co., general store in Sanford, Me. In the early seventies he left Merrill & Co. to return to Boston, where he engaged in the bond and loan business. In 1887 he moved to Chicago and for a time he was manager of the Standard Electric Company.

The elder brother's benefactions to Rollins College in its early days amounted to nearly $200,000. He died December 16, 1917.

Alonzo, at the age of 22, left his boyhood home in Lebanon Center to seek his fortune in Des Moines, Iowa, where he became engaged in the manufacture of brick and "straw board." He moved to Chicago, where he engaged in business with another brother, H. M. Rollins, as dry goods and commission merchants. He remained in business for more than 20 years, and arose in prominence as one of the outstanding merchants and business leaders in Chicago.

In the eighties he began to spend his winters in Florida, and shortly after the founding of Winter Park, Alonzo assumed a prominent place in the civic development of the new town. He was a prime mover in the efforts to secure for Winter Park the proposed college. It was his gift of $50,000 toward the fund offered by Winter Park in competition with several other communities which influenced the Congregationalists to select Winter Park as the site of the first institution of higher education in Florida.

As a tribute to the brothers, the college will place a tablet in Lebanon Center on August 17, commemorating their services in the founding and development of the college. Tentatively, it is planned to hold the exercises in the afternoon, the day following the annual Rollins College summer reunion at the home of President Hamilton Holt, in Woodstock, Conn.

PRISONER PROTESTS 'TIME' GIVEN ON DARE

MIAMI, Fla., July 26.—(UP)—Daniel Boone, daring junk dealer, whose 10-day jail sentence was increased to 20 and then 40 days when he dared Circuit Judge Worth W. Trammell to "double it" three times, has appealed to the state supreme court for cancellation of the remainder of his sentence.

Boone was sentenced to 10 days in jail for maintaining a nuisance in Miami river. When Judge Trammell said "10 days," Boone dared him to double it. The judge did. The sentence jumped to 40 days on still another dare.

Boone has satisfaction of being one up on the judge, however, for when the third dare was hurled, to make the time 80 days, Trammell had to take it. There was a 60-day limit on such sentences.

LIST OF OFFICIALS TO CONDUCT DERBY

A.A.A. Experts in charge of Running of Soap Box Races.

The officials and committees who are in charge of this year's Atlanta Soap Box Derby have been chosen for their experience in conducting similar events and include men who are ready to meet any emergency which may arise, as well as to handle the routine running of heats and finals.

Three of the most important officials, the starter, track director and timer, are A.A.A. officials who have performed these functions for many years at automobile races on some of the most famous auto race tracks in the country.

The complete list of Derby officials follows:

Director of race, H. M. Van Deventer; chief inspector, Henry West; inspector assistants, Wayman Boyles, Roy Wilson, T. H. Hicks, D. F. Hoskins; registrar, C. C. Carr; registrar assistants, Tedd Hoff, C. L. Moss; starter, Weyman Boyles, A.A.A.; starter assistant, J. D. Minter; track Director, Jack Strouss, A.A.A.; timer, Don Kinne, A.A.A.; timer assistants, A. J. Kaiser, J. F. Coleman; head judge, Charlie Barron; judge assistants, B. G. Stodghill, Ed Costley, Oneal, Bill Nichols; clerk of course, Al Martin; clerk assistants, John Dodd, H. L. Tutwiler; safety director, Howard Haire (police); safety assistants, 50 men from Chevrolet dealers (report to Mr. Haire); tow-car chief, Jack Kelly, Goodyear; tow-car assistants, service manager of East Point Chevrolet, service manager of Downtown Chevrolet, service manager of John Smith Company, service manager of Decatur Chevrolet; service station, American Oil Company.

The quarantine against importing narcissus bulbs from foreign countries into the United States will be liberalized December 15, 1936.

OFFICIALS OF A.A.A. TO CONDUCT RACES

Wayman Boyles, Jack Strouss and Don Kinne in Charge of Event.

Perfect running of the elimination heats and finals in the Soap Box Derby was assured when The Constitution and the Atlanta Chevrolet dealers, co-sponsors of the event, secured three American Automobile Association race officials for the three most important jobs at the race.

Wayman Boyles, who has started automobile, bicycle, motorcycle, and soap box races for the past 15 years, will be official starter, handling the flags that send the contestants speed down the race hill on Northside drive.

Jack Strouss, official A.A.A. timer, will perform that duty for the Derby, and Don Kinne, third A.A.A. official, will be in charge of the track.

Radio Patrol Plan Evolved.

TRYON, S. C., July 26.—(AP)—Tryon has no police radio system, but it has the next best thing. Through an arrangement with the telephone company, the operator will press a button, making the big town bell toll once when a policeman is needed. Hearing the bell, the policeman on duty will go to the nearest phone and ask the operator who needs help.

STATUE SHOWS MAN ENTERING OWN TOMB

CUTTINGSVILLE, Vt., July 26.—(AP)—A strange mausoleum, with a life-sized statue of the wealthy New Yorker who built it facing the door, stands in a cemetery here.

The builder was the late John P. Bowman, who was born in Clarendon, Vt. Bowman's wife and their two children were buried here.

The tomb was built of marble and granite in 1880-1881.

The statue of Bowman was sculptured in New York by Tutini and shows him ascending steps at the door with a key to the memorial in his right hand. On his left arm he carries his ulster and a high hat.

TROPHY BY KETTERING FOR BEST MADE CAR

GMC Vice President Offers Award for Design and Construction.

Final approval of the design for the Kettering trophy, awarded annually to the best constructed car in the All-American Soap Box Derby to be held at Akron, Ohio, August 11, was voted by a distinguished board of judges. They are M. E. Coyle, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company; C. F. Kettering, vice president in charge of research of the General Motors Corporation, donor of the trophy, and W. S. Knudsen, executive vice president of General Motors. Sixty cities are holding local Soap Box Derbies and will send their winners to Akron for the national championship. One of the boys will return home with this handsome trophy, even though his car may not be the fastest on the hill. Its award is based on the design and construction of the car.

POWER COMPANY WILL PROVIDE BUS SCHEDULE

The Georgia Power Company will provide a bus schedule to ply between Peachtree road and Northside drive, on Saturday to take care of the huge crowds expected to view the Soap Box Derby. The buses will leave the intersection of Peachtree Road and Peachtree Battle avenue at regular intervals and proceed up Peachtree Battle avenue to the scene of the race, on Northside drive.

The service will make it possible for every one who has no car available to make quick time in reaching the "race track."

No transfers are acceptable on this temporary bus line, the fare being 10 cents each way.

NIGHT CLUB IS CLOSED ACCOUNT OF PROFANITY

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 26.—(UP)—How much profanity constitutes a nuisance when your automobile gets stuck in the mud?

A night club on the outskirts of Montgomery has been ordered closed as a "public nuisance" by Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones, who held that lack of pavement around the club resulted in many motorists bogging down after heavy rains, causing much profanity.

"The testimony shows," Judge Jones' opinion said, "that roads surrounding the building become seas of mud after a heavy rain, and quite often when the frolics break up, the automobiles of the guests become mired, and much racing of motors, shifting of gears and profanity is necessary to get on the paved highway again."

BEGGING 'PARTY' FUNDS LANDS COUPLE IN JAIL

MIAMI, Fla., July 26.—(UP)—When Andrew J. Kavanaugh took office as the new safety director for Miami, two men decided to hold a "reception" for him.

But the "reception" was unauthorized, and police arrested A. H. Welton, of Miami Beach, and Harry A. Murry, Miami, who allegedly solicited funds to promote the "party" no one else seemed to know anything about. They were charged with attempting to obtain money under false pretenses.

Town Band 103 Years Old.

Barrington, N. H., claims to have the oldest band in the country. It is 103. Its founder, James Wiggin, was the grandfather of the present leader, Elmer Wiggin. There are three generations playing in the band now and there has always been a Wiggin representative at its head since its existence.

PICTURE COLONY MOVE FAILS TO MATERIALIZE

California Enacts Income Tax in Face of Gigantic Bluff.

HOLLYWOOD, July 26.—(UP)—To hear them talk a few months ago you would have thought that the big shot executives were already packing their stars and equipment for a hurried flight from the sun-kissed state to Florida, the Carolinas, New Jersey or New York. They simply wouldn't stay in California if the legislature voted a state income tax.

Well, the tax has been voted and they are still in Hollywood.

Practically every studio in Hollywood has announced construction of new sound stages. Warners broke ground for eight such stages; Twentieth Century-Fox is to build a new stage and a huge executive building; Radio is adding additional buildings and huge tower to flash to the world its gripping announcements, and Columbia is slopping over on independent lots.

Sam Goldwyn, who yipped the loudest about the "un-American" plan of state tax of incomes, tops them all by purchasing the remaining 50 per cent interest in United Artists studios from Twentieth Century. Florida will miss Sam.

Hotcha! Garbo will do "Camillo" when she returns from Sweden. (She will be back, don't worry.) . . . And Warners have borrowed Fredric March for the title role of "Anthony Adverse," sending Dick Powell to Twentieth Century-Fox for the starring part in "Thanks a Million."

It probably will come as a shock to Colonel John Foran, of New York city, that his son, Nick, is now officially Dick Foran and a star in western, or horse opera pictures for Warners. . . . Henry Fonda, whose performance in the film version of "The Farmer Takes a Wife" was tops, has been borrowed by Radio for the leading role opposite Lily Pons in "Love Song." . . . M-G-M won't give Myrna Loy the raise she wants so she'll sit out her contract in New York. . . . Talk swung to breach of promise suits. Said George S. Kaufman: "If I ever write a letter to a chorus girl I'll start it off with 'Dear Tootsie-Wootsie—and gentlemen of the jury.'"

The title of Charlie Chaplin's new picture is "Charles Chaplin in Modern Times." . . . Archie Mayo, for six months a resident in Warners' dog house, is out on the lot again. He balked at bad stories handed him. . . . Sari Maritza claims she grew three-quarters of an inch while lying in bed seven weeks. . . . Mary Brian is off for London for the lead in "Charlot's Revue." . . . The studios have put up the bars against visitors due to the summer influx. . . . Ralph Morgan says he's through with pictures and will return to Broadway this fall. . . . Harold Lloyd's "Milky Way" is off schedule until November because of story trouble. . . . D. W. Griffith will remake "Broken Blossoms" in England.

LITTLE SWEDISH TOWN HEARS TREASURE YARN

Reported Expedition Being Organized to Search for Fabulous Wealth.

VISBY, Isle of Gotland, Sweden, July 26.—Reports that an American expedition is being organized to seek fabulous treasures in and around Visby, has brought new excitement to this idyllic little city, which once knew both wealth and greatness.

Important in the plans of the expedition, it is stated, will be an effort to locate and salvage the ships with which King Valdemar Atterdag, of Denmark, in 1361, carried away a good share of the wealth of Visby.

Visby, now a slumbering patch of buildings inclosed by a city wall which still stands, and with the ruins of 13 large churches in its environs, was at that time a Hanseatic league town, surfeited with the profit of its pirate-protected trade.

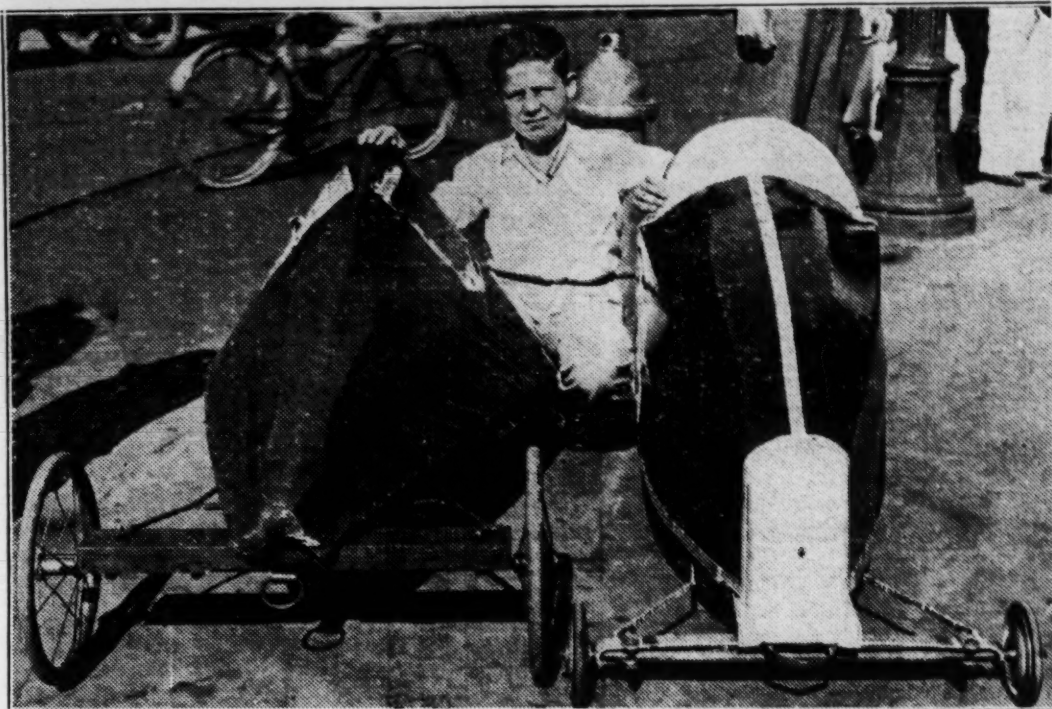

But Valdemar Atterdag came sailing, and conquered. He set up three enormous barrels in the market place. If the barrels were not filled with jewelry, money and precious stones in three days' time, he told the citizens of Visby, he would burn their city.

The citizens of Visby, the story goes, took the Danish king's breath away by filling the barrels, not in three days, but in one. Atterdag sailed away, only to be the victim of a storm which sent all of his ships to the bottom of the sea.

The American expedition intends also, according to reports, to use modern electrical equipment to determine whether the church ruins of Visby contain some of the famed treasures of the city.

The search will thus be one of the most extensive ever to be attempted with the use of modern treasure-hunting equipment. Permission of the Swedish government to carry out the program has, the Swedish press reports, been granted.

Atlanta's 1934 Winner, With Racers, Old and New

LOWER DUTIES ON 85 ARTICLES DUE SOON

U. S. Will Drop Rates to Several Nations, Result of Trade Pacts.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—When the Swedish trade pact becomes effective, the United States will begin collecting lower duties on 85 articles imported from foreign countries.

How much the reduced tariffs will stimulate trade between the countries which produce and export those articles, and the United States, will not be ascertainable until time permits comparison with previous importing periods.

All reductions were made in the Swedish, Belgian and Haitian trade pacts and were designed to benefit products of which those nations are this country's chief supplies.

Similar products from all other nations which grant fair and equitable treatment to American goods in international trade, however, will be admitted under the same lowered tariffs.

In the Swedish agreement duties were reduced on 35 articles imported largely from that country, including unfinished steel bars and sheets, wire, alloy steels, wrapping paper, processed paper-board, safety matches, engraved ornamental glassware, light-house lenses, pocket knives with etched handles, vulcanized fiber, granite paving blocks, high carbon ferrochrome, anti-friction ball and roller bearings, enameled household utensils, saws, slip joint pliers and calculating machines operated by electric motor.

In addition, the United States pledged that it will not increase the present duty on nine types of articles, including three types of woodpulp, Swedish health bread, wire rods, electric vacuum cleaners and motors, machine knives, processed paperboard and wall-board, reciprocating gang saw machines, and forks, rakes and hoes.

In the Belgian trade pact reductions were made on the duty levies on 47 articles, including glass sand, plate glass, cement, iron and steel mill products, linen fabrics and handmade lace and lace articles.

Concessions granted in the Haitian agreement were on Guava preserves and the promise to keep bananas, coffee, cocoa and several other tropical products on the free list.

When the Brazilian pact—now before that country's congress for approval—becomes effective at a future date, the duty will be reduced on Manganese ore from 1 cent to 1-2 cent per pound, and concessions granted on products peculiarly Brazilian.

Negotiations for trade pacts are in progress with Canada, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Spain, Switzerland and several Central American republics.

After agreements are concluded, they must—since the actual work is being done in Washington—be sent to the other countries for approval before being proclaimed by President Roosevelt.

The pacts become effective 30 days after exchange of ratifications and proclamation by the President.

Dogs Get Up-to-Date Names.

The naming of dogs has reflected a modern influence, examination of license records at the city hall in Superior, Wis., shows. Included among the old standbys are such innovations as Snootie, Nitty, Fussie, Sugar, Kayo, Dixie, Rinty, Caddy, Punt, Hummy, Lindy, Music and Alaska.

PHILADELPHIANS HIDE $2,055 IN SCRIP MONEY.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—(UP) Souvenir hunters have $2,055 in scrip currency tucked away in attics and other clandestine places in Philadelphia, the Clearing House Association reports.

During the turbulent banking period of 1933, the association issued $8,000,000 in scrip currency as a medium of exchange. All has been redeemed and burned except $2,055.

Although no deadline has been reached, eventually all money which remains after redemption will revert to the state.

Sportsmanship...

AN AMERICAN TRADITION

TRUE sportsmanship is one of America's great traditions, and one of its greatest needs—for today and for the future. The code of sportsmanship, of fair play, as learned on the playground and the athletic field by the boys and youths of the land, later on will govern their conduct in their social, business and civic life—to their own great benefit, and to the benefit of the nation.

It is with the purpose of furthering the spirit of sportsmanship among the boys of America that Chevrolet again sponsors the All American Soap Box Derby, in co-operation with leading newspapers throughout the country. In many of the principal cities of America, the Soap Box Derby has taught 50,000 boys not only the joys of creative work, the benefits of inventiveness, and the value of resourcefulness—but also the even more important lesson of fair play, of true sportsmanship.

Chevrolet earnestly hopes that year after year the All American Soap Box Derby will continue to increase in scope and in importance, Chevrolet pledges its full support and whole-hearted effort to promote, as long as it may be privileged to sponsor it, this greatest of all amateur racing events in the world.
